REBECCA ROTH is of counsel to Gene Rosen's Law Firm. Rebecca is a litigator who represents clients in Federal, State, and local courts and before independent arbitration tribunals. Rebecca handles all aspects of commercial litigation and medical and legal malpractice cases from inception through trial. Rebecca makes court appearances to argue motions, participate in conferences, conduct trials, and conduct and defends depositions. Rebecca also researches and writes all kinds of motions, including summary judgment. Prior to working with Gene Rosen's Law Firm, Rebecca was an associate with two of the largest medical malpractice defense firms in New York City.

Bar Admissions
New York

Court Admissions
United States District Court for the Southern District of New York
United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York

Education
JD – Hofstra Law School, concentration in Civil Litigation
AB – Bryn Mawr College, Psychology, concentration in Neuroscience

Contact
GOOGLE VOICE #
E-mail: Rebecca@GeneRosen.com